A NEW INTRAMURAL SPORT.

Republican Mass Meeting Held on Wednesday With Speeches and Spellbinders.

On Wednesday night a Republican mass meeting was held in the Chapel, attended by a large portion of the college. This is the first meeting of the sort within the memory of the present student generation. Its object was to arouse interest among the fellows in the present political situation, and to give expression of sentiment for Senator Davenport, who is making a great fight in this campaign. The meeting was entirely a success from both points of view. The speakers were given intelligent and respectful attention; enthusiasm was manifest thruout and the name of Davenport occasioned prolonged cheering. Stanley W. Jones of Utica, as president of the Senior Class, presided and introduced as speakers, Martin, Wisehart and O'Brien, all of the Senior Class. Mr. Jones opened the meeting by a few pertinent remarks as to its purpose and the special fitness of such gatherings among college men. He mentioned the fact that two of the speakers have already this fall taken an active part on the stump.

Martin took the floor first with an earnest appeal to each man to take an interest in the campaign, first, because of its importance, and secondly, because of the fact that many Hamilton men before us have interested themselves in and achieved much for the cause of good government. He said that we should not lose this political heritage of our predecessors, and that now is the acceptable time to begin to do our share. He mentioned the names of Root, Hotchkiss and Davenport. Touching the issues Martin showed that the real issue, in the last analysis, is to be found in the characters of the leaders, Murphy and Roosevelt. Martin was well received.

Wisehart followed Martin. Wisehart is a speaker who compels attention. He demonstrated beyond question his power to hold and please an audience. He confined himself principally to a defense of Roosevelt. His remarks evinced deep thought and strength of conviction. He was given enthusiastic applause.

After a violin solo by Heidner, '13, accompanied by H. W. Thompson, '12 on the organ, O'Brien took the floor. His first appeal was against college men making light of such a situation as now confronts the voters of the State. O'Brien brought out the fact that the present is a crisis in the fight between graft and decency. He protested against losing sight of this fact in squabbling over the personalities of leaders. He dealt, one by one, with the men on the Republican ticket, showing that the record of each merits approval. He urged a continuance thruout the campaign of the spirit in evidence on the occasion and closed by asking as many as possible to attend the Roosevelt meeting in a body Thursday. When O'Brien had finished speaking a temporary organization was effected, with an executive committee consisting of O'Brien, Wisehart, Martin, E. Jones, and H. Curtis. The organization will soon be made permanent and affiliated with the National Republican College League, whose representative was on the Hill Friday for a conference with the committee. The result of the meeting was apparent Thursday night, when one hundred and twenty-five men went to Utica, with all kinds of Hamilton spirit displayed, and after much maneuvering and use of football tactics succeeded in effecting an entrance to the Majestic. The presence in the balcony of the Hamilton delegation giving Senator Davenport their yells and "moral support" signified our approval of his candidacy.

Pennsylvania has adopted a new standard flag consisting of two red and one blue vertical stripes with the Pennsylvania arms on the blue stripe in the center of the flag. This is the first college to adopt a standard flag authorized by its corporation.

R. P. I. WON BY WEIGHT.

Hamilton's Light Line Could Not Withstand Constant Pounding—A 12 to 0 Score.

There was a good sized crowd on the R. P. I. grounds in Troy last Saturday when the referee declared everything in readiness and blew the opening whistle for the game which resulted in a 12-0 score for R. P. I. The weather was ideal, altho during the last half flurries of snow began to fall. The fact that R. P. I. outweighed Hamilton several pounds to the man gave them somewhat the advantage because of the slippery and muddy condition of the field. Aside from this the teams were evenly matched.

A small crowd of Hamilton alumni, notable among them being the ever-optimistic Harry Barrows and "Big Hoss" Nellis, '06, almost outcheered the R. P. I. stands with their four hundred students. The long yell sounded again and again.

The Varsity displayed the same fight and determination that was evident in the Rochester game. Martin outplayed his much heavier opponent and repeatedly threw some play for a loss that was directed against the center of the line. His work is so much the more commendable when it is known that he was fighting under physical disabilities. Peters outpunted Magor, Rensselaer's Herculean left tackle, thruout the game. One long, twisting spiral went nearly sixty yards, soaring over the head of the farthest crimson back and bounding towards their goal. McLean deserves praise for his work against the redoubtable Magor. He held his own against the much larger and more experienced lineman. Burdick, Sidle, Stone, Knox, D. Root and Thompson played well for Hamilton. In fact the Varsity worked as a unit, without fumbling or mistaking signals. Kinloch, Lyle and Magor easily excelled for the Crimson.

Rensselaer scored early in the first quarter on a safety, after blocking a punt. the remainder of the first

AMONG THE COLLEGES.

The coaches of Cornell went on a strike last week. The college work of the men breaks up the practice, many being unable to report until late in the afternoon. The coaches say they will do no more work until a definite arrangement is made whereby the men can practice every night.

The faculty of the University of Michigan is considering the matter of giving credit for work on student publications.

Wesleyan opened the year with the largest enrollment in the history of the institution, the freshman class numbering 140 men, almost half the whole total which is something over 340.

At Amherst the faculty have announced a rule that no freshman may participate in outside activities during the first semester with certain exceptions. The Amherst Student has taken exception to the letter and is hoping for an explanation of the cause of such discrimination, as the Student is barred from freshman aid.

There was a phenomenal registration at Columbia this year, a gain being credited to the college, which makes it the largest University in the United States.

The enrollment for Oberlin for the coming year is 981 students; this is an increase of 56 over last year.

New football stands are being erected by Brown University so that 4000 people can be accommodated.

EDITORIAL.

The current issue of the Rochester Campus includes editorial and other articles concerning the Rochester-Hamilton football game which should hardly be dignified by an answer except for the jaundiced attitude taken therein. It is hard to believe that these articles represent the sentiment of the Rochester students who made the trip to Clinton, for in every way their actions were a credit to the institution of which they are members. Their team played a splendid game and their cheering was so enthusiastic and loyal as to command the respect and admiration of every Hamilton man at the game. Just why an editor should seek to distort the facts in the matter is difficult to understand.

In one line it said, "They (Hamilton) have still much to learn with respect to the law of hospitality. They refused to promote the good feeling between the colleges." How, pray tell? Hospitality at a football game does not mean that the home team must be good and let the visitors win because they are guests. Rochester had to play hard to win, but not a Hamilton man who saw the game would attempt to take from them a single item of the credit of their victory. The Yellow team was given a Hamilton yell when it came on the field, its good plays were applauded, when its players were hurt they were cheered by Hamilton and the first yell that went up after the game was by the Hamilton team for Rochester. If that is the "jeering" referred to by the Campus its editor is guilty of gross misrepresentation.

In another column it says, "When the officials meted out penalties to the visiting squad, Hamilton went wild with joy, but in the case of a penalization for the other side the wrathful murmurs were many and loud." That belongs in the same class with the "shorter and uglier word." There was not a Hamilton cheer in any of the instances mentioned. If partisan spectators on the sidelines gave way to their feelings that is something over which the cheer leaders had no control, but from the Hamilton stand there was no comment on the actions of the officials. Of the same sort is the remark that Rochester was denied the use of the only "decent set of 'bleechers' on the field." One whole stand was given up to the visitors, a "bleecher", we submit, as decent as any which grace the Rochester campus.

But Hamilton is apparently not the only institution found wanting when measured by the Campus' exacting standards, for the same issue contains an ungenerous and altogether disagreeable comment on Union's defeat at Rochester as reported in the Schenectady Gazette. From this account, too, one would infer that Rochester, the Campus at least, is the only original source of virtue, "pure and undefiled." The suggestion might be made that the Campus would do well to remember a Michigan football player who wore the Yellow a year ago under decidedly unusual circumstances, or a baseball pitcher whose record was shady, or a baseball game with this College, stopped in the fourth inning when Hamilton was ahead, contrary to specific agreement made before the game.

For Rochester University Hamilton College and this paper have genuine admiration and respect. The relations between the two institutions have always been fair and generous and it is our hope that they may so continue. It is to be regretted, however, that the Campus has been led into such an undignified and narrow attitude by what appears to be nothing but personal spleen evidenced on its editorial page.

COMMITTEE APPOINTED.

Acting upon the editorial suggestion in last week's issue of Life, the two upper classes have decided to appoint a committee, representative of the several fraternities and including the presidents of the Senior and Junior Classes, to formulate a set of rules under which "gym. shows" and other under-classmen hostilities shall be carried on in the future.

The committee consists of the following men: Colson, chairman; S. W. Jones, Mitchell, Bates, Boone, Connell, Donaldson, Erskine, and Slaughter.

CHESS CLUB TO BE REVIVED.

Last Friday evening the men in College interested in chess met at the home of Professor Brown and organized a chess club in the endeavor to promote an active interest in the game in the college body. Several years ago Professor Rice, the originator of the now famous Rice gambit, presented to the College a chess table upon which are mounted a number of seals intended to have inscribed upon them the names of the best players in college for each year. Since the donation of the table no man has been given the opportunity to prove himself the champion of the College. It is the purpose of the club to determine by means of a tournament who is entitled to the privilege of having his name engraved upon the table, and also to determine the men best fitted to represent the College in intercollege chess. The membership of the club is limited to 12 men, but each man is required to defend his position on the club. Every man in college is privileged to challenge any man on the club to play, the winner becoming a member of the club. All challenges should be issued thru the tournament committee, consisting of Prof. Brown, Adams, '12, and Plant, '12.

The men who are at present on the club are: Getman, '11, Adams, Dubourdieu, Grant, Plant, '12, Griswold, Clapp, '13, Dayton and Walker, '14.

R. P. I. WON BY WEIGHT.

half was a closely contested exhibition, both teams gaining much ground. R. P. I. relied mainly on the old-style game, while Hamilton gained around the end and on trick formations. In fact, the Varsity virtually outplayed their oponents for the remainder of the half.

At the beginning of the second half Captain Sidle was shifted to fullback, Robinson taking his place at left half, Root going back to tackle, and Thompson playing his old guard position. Injuries necessitated much shifting and substituting on the part of the Varsity later in the game.

Rensselaer's superior weight and the constant pounding on the Hamilton line began to have its effect as the game advanced. In each quarter of the last half R. P. I. scored a touchdown by the same hammering, altho Lyle and Kinloch made several sensational end runs.

The score does not tell of the valiant work on the part of the Hamilton line. Time and again the Varsity held for downs when two yards would have meant another score for the Institute. In the last forty-five seconds of play the Varsity held their opponents for downs within two feet of the goal line. Martin on this occasion, altho half dazed from an injury he had received the down before and utterly exhausted, broke thru and stopped the plunging back. Hamilton punted out of danger and the game was over.

And it was a good contest, contradictory reports notwithstanding. Even if the larger total of points for the season's games is on the wrong side, a schedule of games played like that of Saturday last is essentially a success.

The line up:

RENSSELAER.		HAMILTON.
	Right end.
Turner.		Peters.
	Right tackle.
Kuys.		McLean
	Right guard.
Partenfelter.		Potter.
	Center.

	Left tackle.
Magor.		Thompson
	Left end.

Lyall.		Stone.
	Right halfback.
Kinloch.		Knox.
	Left halfback.
Higbee.		Sidle.
	Fullback.
Gebhart.		D. S. Root

THE ST. LAWRENCE TEAM.

St. Lawrence on Steuben Field will be the attraction for Saturday and a good game is assured. Both teams are in good condition and are evenly matched. As for weight, St. Lawrence has the advantage, her team averaging 165 lbs., but on their entire squad there are but seven veteran players, the rest being green material. The games played so far this season have resulted as follows:

St. Lawrence 0, Vermont 6.

St. Lawrence 16, St. Michaels 0.

The St. Lawrence team has shown up strong on the defense, holding Vermont four times within their ten yard line. It will be remembered that Vermont tried Cornell's strength two weeks ago and scored a touchdown against them. On offense their team is slow and have shown little adaptability to the new rules. Sweet at left tackle and Welch at left end are their most valuable men. St. Lawrence will line up against the Varsity as follows: Right end, Spencer; right tackle, Ward; right guard, Maloney; center, Olds (Capt.); left guard, Kennedy; left tackle, Sweet; left end, Welch; quarter, Williams; right half, Timmerman; fullback, O'Rourke; left half, Canfield.

THE PANIC IN RAKES

"Rakes Preferred" opened strong on Monday, October 23, following the annual report of the "Consolidated Sophomore Rake Co." The prices ran quickly from 25 to 40; broke slightly about ten o'clock but rallied strongly, reaching 100 by 11 o'clock.

The Sophomores proved heavy sellers, while the Freshmen bulled a strong market. The excitement grew intense, when a rumor was spread questioning the integrity of the C. S. R. Co. Prices fell at once without a rally. Only a few Freshmen saved themselves by selling out, all demand for rakes vanished, and all were caught in the panic.

The break in the market so shook the faith of the public, that it is predicted by some that not another rake will be sold on College Hill this year.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

On Sunday, October 23, at the regular meeting of the Y. M. C. A. the students listened to an interesting talk on "The Duty of the Individual," by the Rev. John R. Snape of the Tabernacle Baptist Church of Utica. In a very forceful manner he told the duty of every individual as a public speaker, no matter what his vocation, to use his influence and power for spreading the gospel of Christ. A violin duet by Heidner and Woods concluded the meeting.

AMONG THE COLLEGES.

Ten students of Trinity College are under quarantine owing to a contagious form of conjunctivitis. The dictionary claims that conjunctivitis is a form of disease better known as pink eye.

As an alternative to gymnasium work, rowing classes are to be started at Syracuse University under the direction of Coach Ten Eyck.

The Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity house at Syracuse University is under quarantine owing to an outbreak of diphtheria.

The freshmen of Indiana University have started a new annual custom called Cap Burning. At the end of the year they have a large parade thru the city streets and then a solemn meeting. Speeches are made and the affair ends with the burning of the freshman headgear in a huge bonfire.

The Board of Trustees of the University of Maine have passed the following rule: "That during the years 1910 and 1911 no more than one-half of the new members of the several fraternities shall be taken from the freshman class, and that after the year 1911 no freshman shall be allowed as a member in any of the fraternity houses."

Prof. Davenport's Speech.

Senator F. M. Davenport's speech was one of the principal features of the big Roosevelt meeting in Utica Thursday evening, when about 125 College rooters held a prominent place in he gallery and "whooped 'er up for Davy." In reviewing the work of his first term at Albany and appealing for support on his record the Senator spoke in part as follows:

"From the moment I entered the Senate I upheld and contended for the rights of the people of the whole State. I stood with a group of brave fellows in the Legislature who wanted what was right and nothing else, men who knew that the people were sick unto death of the conditions which have made government and legislation at Albany so frequently the creatures of the few and the cunning and the powerful. I joined with the men who voiced the sentiment of the people for the direct primary. I take it there is no doubt in the mind of any man about the majority view of the people of the State of New York is tonight upon that question. I did what I could to free the State of New York from the taint of a false leadership. I found at Albany the party to which I belonged in the clutch of a base bipartisan conspiracy which had wrecked party organization and destroyed party responsibility. I refused to take orders from this conspiracy and the program for private interest it carried out at Albany. I steadfastly held to the view that I was there to reflect the will of the people of this county without distinction of party, whose representative I tried to be and not the will of any man when it came in conflict with the common interest. I was against the shrewd and cunning attempts to thwart the will of the people. I was a friend to every honest and useful corporation when it sought to be fair and just and I stood with the men who were foes to any man or any corporation which sought to disobey the law or to be unfair or unjust to the interest of the people. The people of the county, whether Democrats or Republicans, or members of any other party, know that I have tried to make it a record of hard and unremitting labor in the cause of honesty and justice and human rights. And the interests and influences which are against me in this campaign know it.
